

Wright Nominated Over Beckman

Dents Stratton Prestige in GOP Treasurer Race

Wright Wins By Carrying More Than 85 Downstate Counties

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Veteran campaigner Warren E. Wright put a dent in Gov. Stratton's political prestige today and captured his third Republican nomination for state treasurer.

Stratton, who soundly trounced Wright for the gubernatorial nomination two years ago, conceded Wright's victory over State Rep. Louis E. Beckman of Kankakee had left his state organization in need of "repairs."

But the governor said these repairs would be made quickly and promised his support to Wright in the November election.

Beckman, who found Stratton's backing of no avail in Tuesday's Illinois primary, conceded defeat "on the basis of incomplete returns" at 2 a. m. today and also promised to "work together" with Wright in November.

Smith Wallops Daly
Wright scored his smashing victory by carrying more than 85 downstate counties, doing even better than his pre-election forecast of victory in 65-70 counties.

This big downstate margin more than offset an early lead piled up by Beckman in Cook County where he had the organization endorsement.

With 9,480 of the 9,859 precincts in the state counted, the vote was 243,280 for Wright and 268,805 for Beckman, a margin of about 74,000.

In the only other statewide contest, Elmwood Park School Supt. Gerald W. Smith, 52, walloped Chicagoan Lar Daly for the Republican nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

With 8,468 of the state's 9,859 precincts reported, Smith had 381,553 votes to 103,139 for Daly.

Cook County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, 48, and Madison County School Supt. George T. Wilkins, 49, were nominated without opposition on the Democratic ballot for state treasurer and superintendent of public instruction, respectively.

Only Few Upsets
Besides the Wright victory, the primary—first in the nation this year—was marked by a record-low total vote for both parties and the first slaying at a polling place in Chicago in 30 years.

There were few upsets in the races for congressional, state Senate and state representative nominations although Stratton's floor whip, Sen. George E. Drach, Springfield, found himself in a tight battle for renomination in the 45th District.

The only three GOP congressional incumbents with opposition won handily. They were Reps. Noah M. Mason, Oglesby, who defeated Daniel Palmer Mitchell, Plano, in the 15th District; Leo E. Allen, Galena, who turned back John Tappe, Rockford, in the 16th District; and Robert B. Shipfield, Canton, who whipped John W. Bailey, Galesburg, in the 19th District. The actual total vote turnout

Olney Man Leads For Democratic Nomination in 23rd

OLNEY, Ill. (U.P.)—George E. Shipley, Olney, piled up a top-heavy margin over Lorain C. Combe, Greenville, for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 23rd District in Tuesday's primary. Charles W. Vursell, Salem, was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Woman Gives Birth to Baby Boy At Polling Place

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Mrs. Geraldine Gilmore never got home from the polling place Tuesday. Instead, she was taken to Woodlawn Hospital with her newborn baby boy.

Mrs. Gilmore, 28, is a woman who takes her politics seriously. Although well over half of Chicago's eligible voters failed to take part in Illinois's primary election, Mrs. Gilmore knew her democratic duty.

She trudged to the Woodlawn police station, the polling place of the 6th Ward's 49th Precinct, ready to cast her vote. Her baby-to-be decided to arrive at the same time.

Policeman Patrick Graham, an old hand with 31 babies' experience, took the case in stride. Before long, voters heard an uncommon sound in the police station, a baby's cry.

The Road Back and Forth

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: New Attorney General has chance to take Justice Department out of politics; He has not answered Congressman Brooks' letter re corrupt practices violation of ex-Chairman Len Hall; Brooks reminds Rogers of Hall's still pending case.

WASHINGTON.—The new Attorney General, William Rogers, is a brilliant young man who has a chance to restore the Justice Department to its onetime position of applying justice with blindfolded impartiality. Under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations this has not been the case.

For years the Post Office Department was the big political patronage arm of government, with the postmaster general lading out postmasterhips to the party faithful. But with more and more postmasterhips put under Civil Service, the real political wing of government has become the Justice Department.

This should not be, but it is. If the attorney general can discreetly keep a man from going to jail for income tax evasion, it may mean a heavy campaign contribution. Or if a big corporation, whose officers have contributed handsomely to the party, gets into antitrust trouble, it's the attorney general who can get it out of trouble.

For a long time when the Democrats controlled the Justice Department I tried to get them to revoke the citizenship of underworld mobster Frankie Costello. I pointed out that Costello had lied in making out his naturalization papers by failing to admit he had a brush with the law for carrying a concealed weapon, therefore could be deported. However, Costello was close to certain Democratic leaders in New York, had shared a hotel room with Tammany leader Hines at Chicago when FDR was nominated in 1932. The then Democratic administration of the Justice Department did not move. Later when I turned my Costello evidence over to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee he did move. Result: The sensational Senate crime hearings which finally sent Costello to jail.

QUIZZING THE NEW AG

To see how the new attorney general was going to administer justice regarding both Democrats and Republicans, I went down to his press conference. Mr. Rogers has made a fine start by holding press conferences—something his predecessor, Herbert Brownell, had not done for two years. Rogers was frank and forthright. He described the Senate idea of administering separate oaths to judges as "silly," told of his plan to clean up crime, ducked no inquiries.

When I got a chance to have a word, I asked when he was going to answer certain unanswered correspondence from members of Congress regarding violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

"You have a letter from Congressman Jack Brooks of Texas, dated July 25, 1937, which calls attention to the violation of the Corrupt Practices Act by Len Hall, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, in the Nicaro Nickel contract," I pointed out.

The attorney general looked blank. True, he has been attorney general only a short time, but I knew that as deputy attorney general he would have known all about the Len Hall case. It was thoroughly discussed inside the Justice Department.

"Congressman Brooks," I said, "tells me you have not answered his letter."

"Almost a year has passed," I pointed out. "Are you going to call a grand jury to consider the Hall case?"

"We don't disclose when we are calling a grand jury," the AG replied.

"You called three grand juries in order to indict Lamar Caudle and the secretary of President Truman. Are you going to examine the activities of a high-up Republican?"

Mr. Rogers then bragged about getting a final higher court affirmation in the Caudle case (regarding which more in a later column), but he never answered the question as to whether he would call a grand jury to probe extremely serious charges officially made by a committee of Congress that the chairman of the GOP had committed a criminal offense.

Meanwhile Congressman Brooks, chairman of the Government Operations subcommittee, has written another letter to Rogers, April 8, asking him what he has done about this serious charge and whether he intends to do anything.

The charge is based on clearcut evidence that Len Hall, as chairman of the GOP asked for a contribution from the Frederick H. Snare Co. in July, 1934, before that company was given a $43,000,000 contract by the U. S. government to expand its Nicaro Nickel plant in Cuba. Demanding such contributions in connection with a government contract is a criminal offense.

The Snare company had done the original work on the Nicaro plant, was recommended by the Eisenhower administration as best qualified to do the additional work. But, according to Randall Cremer, vice president of Snare, Hall not only made it clear that he would have to make a contribution to the GOP, but also said:

"If you get the contract we will expect to get the placing of the insurance and the bonds."

Later Cremer noted in his diary that Hall was balking at letting Snare have the contract because he had "received no corroboration from the finance chairman in New York and New Jersey." When Snare officials contributed $7,000 in the summer of 1934 they got the Nicaro contract.

Complained Cremer: "It so happens that all our officers are life long Republicans. . . . The (original) Nicaro contracts were given us during Democratic administrations, but the question of politics was never considered."

These are some of the facts facing new Attorney General Rogers. Upon his decision will depend whether the Justice Department once again becomes the impartial administrator of justice.

Standard of Indiana Has Education Plan

CHICAGO 17 — Approximately three per cent of the employees of Standard Oil Company (Ind.) have signed for an educational assistance program the company started this year.

The response has been twice as large as expected, according to W. J. McGill, general manager of Standard's employee relations division.

Under the program Standard pays up to 75 per cent of the tuition for employees attending school on their own time.

McGill said administration of the program had been as liberal as possible.

"If there is any reason to believe the employee, and thereby the company, will benefit from any course, the odds are the tuition refund will be approved," he said.

If the employee is working toward a degree, any necessary course will be approved.

Any course offered by any accredited school, college, trade school or professional society is acceptable. The courses must be completed with passing grades.

McGill said the 1,250 applications covering 1,261 courses are expected to cost the company about $79,000 this year.

Social and Personal Items

First Christian Ladies' Missionary Guild Meets at Parsonage

The Ladies' Missionary Guild of the First Christian church held its April meeting at the parsonage, 204 East Lincoln street Mrs. Vance Brackney was assistant hostess. The meeting opened with the singing of a Japanese Hymn Prayer used as the opening prayer. The president, Mrs. Vance Brackney, welcomed the guests, who were the young high school girls of the church.

Mrs. Stanley Wilson led the devotion, using the theme, "Be Ye Perfect in Attitudes Toward Things," taking her scripture from Matt. 6:25-33 and Matt. 1:16.

Mrs. Cecil Uzzle, dressed in traditional Japanese kimono, presented the last missionary lesson on Japan. She presented the theme, "Shadows Under Cherry Blossoms," which was a study of what Christian people are doing to help Japanese in their social problems.

The Christian church's two main schools are East Tokyo Institute and Jewel Garden Family Home. There are 49 agencies who work among the "rag-pickers" (those who make their living picking saleable items from city dump), "Canal people" (who live in boats and fish for living), and "disabled veterans" (who are considered outcasts), were some of the people who were helped by the Christian agencies. Dormitories were built for them, also schools, churches, social centers, etc. But there is still a great need for Christian teaching in Japan. The meeting was adjourned with the Guild benediction.

Refreshments of strawberry fluff and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. Wm. Sloan Jr. and guests, Linda Adams, and Ramona Gaddis; Mrs. Vance Brackney and guest, Barbara Abby; Mrs. Cecil Uzzle and guest, Elaine Parker; Mrs. Jack Yates and guest, Mary Lou Collins; Mrs. Annary Empson and guest, Penny Wise; Mrs. Frank Patterson and guest, Mrs. David Patterson; Mrs. Charles Boyd, Mrs. Norman Fuhr, Mrs. J. # Illinois, Indiana Urged to Speed Taking Over New Harmony Bridge

INDIANAPOLIS — Indiana and Illinois were urged today not to waste much time in taking over the New Harmony toll bridge over the Wabash River and making it toll-free.

The bridge has been operated by the White County Illinois Bridge Commission since 1930 under congressional authority. It was to revert to the two states when bonds were paid off.

Gov. Handley of Indiana and Gov. Stratton of Illinois named three-man committees to study problems of taking over the bridge. Engineers' studies had shown erosion might have made the structure dangerous.

Joseph E. O'Daniel, Evansville, chairman of the Indiana committee, said in a meeting of his group with the Indiana Highway Commission Tuesday that the federal government is correcting the river channel to prevent bridge damage. He also said about $90,000 in commission as sets would revert to the states for maintenance if the states take over.

"It seems to me it would be very short-sighted to defer indefinitely the taking over the bridge," O'Daniel said. But he warned the White County commission will "throw every roadblock that is possible" to prevent it.

Tolls were reduced from 50 cents to 15 cents at the beginning of a congressional investigation which indicated mismanagement by the bridge's operators. The bonds have been paid off.

Dr. Bernie Smith Honored by Heads Of Trans-World and Capital Airlines

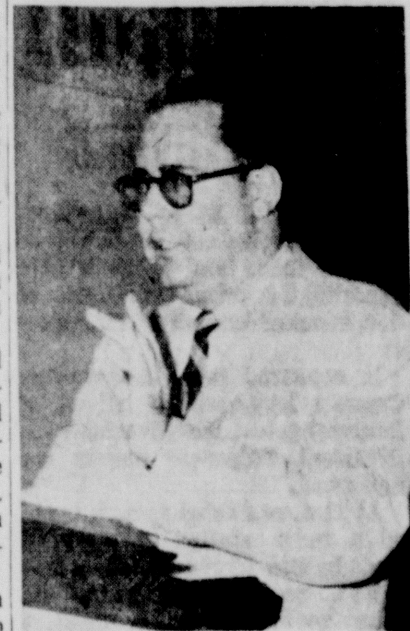

Dr. Bernie Smith, international evangelist from Harrisburg, recently was honored by the presidents of two major airlines for his contributions to air travel.

Warren Pierson, president of Trans-World Airlines, presented him with a citation and a membership in TWA's exclusive Ambassador's club.

President David Baker of Capital Airlines presented him a citation making him an Honorary Captain of the Capital Fleet.

In 1953 Dr. Smith was honored by Pat Patterson, president of United Airlines, who gave him a gold plaque for having flown the equivalent of four times around the world in his evangelistic travels. Similar plaques have been given to President Eisenhower and Evangelist Billy Graham.

In the next few weeks Dr. Smith will conduct campaigns in Toledo and Dayton, Ohio, Chicago and Toronto, Ontario. He will be back in Harrisburg in June.

New Crisis On Shipments of Arms to Algeria

BARBEZIEUX, France (AP) — Anglo-American efforts to end the Franco-Tunisian dispute neared a dead end today. A new crisis over alleged Tunisian shipments of arms to Algerian rebels appeared to be in the making.

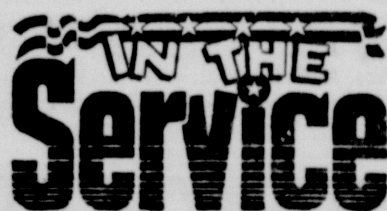

U. S. and British diplomats came here today to consult with Premier Felix Gaillard at his country home in the Cognac region of west-central France, but the pessimistic belief in Paris was that they would report failure.

The "good offices" team of U. S. Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert D. Murphy and Harold Beeley of the British Foreign Office were accompanied here today by U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton and British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb. They are seeking a way out of the stalemate before Tunisia hands the two-month-old crisis back to the United Nations.

Their efforts were hampered by two new developments:

—France vigorously protested to Tunisia that 22 cases of two-way radio sets seized at Nice Monday night were being shipped by Tunisia to the Algerian rebels. Tunisia replied that the French claims were "pure fantasy."

—French authorities in Algiers said an armed Tunisian patrol crossed into Algeria Monday and exchanged gunfire with French troops who moved out to investigate. No one was killed. The incident occurred 40 miles north of Sakiet Sidi Youssef where a French bombing attack Feb. 8 precipitated the present crisis.

David G. Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Akers of Ridgway, graduated recently from recruit training at the Naval Training center in San Diego, Calif. The graduation exercises marked the end of nine weeks of "boot camp" for the Ridgway man.

Putnam will speak of "Publications and Literature and Mrs. V. L. Shinneman, of "Temperance Education in the Schools."

The noon prayer will close the morning session.

Nancy Fulkerson will open the afternoon session with a solo at 1 p. m., accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Thompson. The devotion will be given by Mrs. Bee Holland. ## Eisenhower Sees No Need for Decision Now On Cutting Taxes

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today he sees no need for a decision now on cutting taxes.

He told his news conference that economic figures he has seen including those on unemployment Tuesday, in his opinion do not require a tax cutting decision at the moment.

The Labor and Commerce departments reported Tuesday that March unemployment rose 25,000 to 5,198,000 while employment rose 323,000.

The President said he is keeping the tax matter under constant study but indicated that it could be several months before a decision is made to cut taxes—if that becomes necessary.

Urges People to Buy

He pointed out that there are 62 million people with jobs, that the public has a great amount of savings and that the Federal Reserve Board has taken actions to ease credit. The President said this led him to the conclusion that there are real grounds for believing the nation's economy is going on the upgrade one of these days. But he said he would not say when.

When a reporter asked what the people could do about the economy, the President gave a clipped one-word answer—buy.

When the reporter asked what they should buy, the President said—anything. However, he said he did not mean that people should buy carelessly but should do so selectively, and get what they want.

He laid part of the blame on the public's reluctance to buy on what he called manufacturers chucking things down peoples' throats. He said it was time for manufacturers to wake up and begin giving the people what they want.

Might End Nuclear Tests

In other highlights of the news conference, the President:

—Strongly defended his sweeping defense reorganization plan. He said he didn't see any sense at all to charges that it would make a czar out of Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. He heatedly said that he is going to fight his utmost in an effort to get congressional approval for the plan. He said that he would go on the television to make nationwide speeches in support of it as often as the networks would let him, if it became necessary.

—Said he would seriously consider a unilateral suspension of further U. S. nuclear tests if scientists told him they had learned in the forthcoming tests what they wanted to about cleaning up nuclear bombs and other technical information.

—Made a strong pitch for congressional approval of his foreign aid and reciprocal trade programs. He said that congressional failure to approve them would seriously damage world leadership of the United States.

—After first refusing with a crisp no to evaluate chances of GOP congressional candidates in the fall elections, he said they can win if they work hard and intelligently.

Though 500 miles from the sea, Basel, Switzerland, handles some 4,000,000 tons of ship cargo annually.

Lease Barge Loading Facilities on Ohio River at Rosiclare

Southern Illinois Mining Company, the Hardin county fluorspar operation of H. Evans Roberts of Montana, has leased from the Rosiclare Lead and Fluorspar Mining Company its barge loading facilities at the foot of Main street in Rosiclare, on the Ohio river.

Southern Illinois Mining Company will repair and improve the existing loading facilities, and plans to ship fluorspar from its operation via barge on the Ohio river.

The barge loading facilities of the Rosiclare Lead and Fluorspar Mining Company have been on the Ohio river for almost 50 years in that company's long history of the shipment of fluorspar from its mines in Hardin county, but these facilities have not been used by the company since 1954.

Two Virginia Miners Killed By 'Black Damp'

CARBO, Va. — Two miners were killed by deadly "black damp" following an explosion in a mine here and four others were burned in the blast.

Ralph Huffman, production manager of the Clinchfield Coal Co., said the "localized" blast was caused by ignition of methane gas sparked by cave-in of a section of the mine's roof.

Huffman said rocks hurtled down with the cave-in and touched off a spark which ignited the gas. The burned methane left carbon monoxide, referred to by miners as the deadly "black damp."

Clyde Large, 28, of Herald, Va., and Jess Steffy, 25, of Hamlin, Va., died from inhaling carbon monoxide fumes being drawn from the mine through a ventilator, Huffman said.

Only One Upset In Congressional Primary Races

CHICAGO — The only three congressional incumbents with opposition in Tuesday's primary all sailed to easy victories, but Mrs. Norma Eaton, a Newton lawyer scored an upset in the Republican race in the 21st District.

The incumbents, all veteran downstate Republicans, who won over opposition were Reps. Noah M. Mason, Oglesby, 15th District; Leo E. Allen, Galena, 16th District; and Robert B. Chipfield, Canton, 19th District.

Mason defeated Daniel Palmer Mitchell, Plano; Allen turned back John Tappe, Rockford; and Chipfield defeated John W. Bailey Galesburg.

Mrs. Eaton, running against theater chain executive John D. Giachetto who had the backing of members of Gov. Stratton's administration, won the 21st District GOP nomination by about 2,000 votes.

Ald Chouinard, Belleville, won the Republican nomination in the 24th District on write-in votes. Also in the southern part of the state, Williamson County State's Atty. Carl Sneed, Marion, defeated Paul C. Dorris, Cartersville for

Drach Says Wright's Victory Is Revolt Against Administration

CHICAGO — Gov. Stratton's votes are going," he said. A Republican leader in Williamson County in southern Illinois who declined to be identified also interpreted the Wright victory as a protest against Stratton.

"The fact that Stratton backed Beckman hurt his chances," the Williamson County man said.

A spokesman at Wright's headquarters in Chicago's Sherman Hotel said Wright "went to the country... talked to his friends and they brought him to victory." Stratton also indicated dissatisfaction with the performance of his "organization." He said "some of our own people" in the administration were not getting his program and accomplishments "across to the people."

But the governor himself blamed the defeat of his candidate, State Rep. Louis E. Beckman of Kankakee, to the fact that Wright is a veteran campaigner with "a well-known name," while Beckman was making his first try for a statewide office.

Sen. George E. Drach, Springfield, who himself was in a nip-and-tuck battle for renomination, told United Press "the people seemed to be voting against the administration."

"The Sangamon County organization certainly tried hard to deliver the goods for Beckman but they couldn't come through," Drach said.

Drach said the "revolt" against the administration also apparently affected his race. "The only thing that I've done wrong is to support the administration or so it would seem from the way the figure for downstate apparently would have to wait the official canvass next week since the unopposed Democratic votes were not immediately counted in some counties.

But it appeared the total vote for both parties would be under the 1,400,000 figure of 1944, the record-low in modern state history. Wright, 65, who lives in Park Ridge now but is a native of Murrayville in Morgan County, was elected state treasurer twice in the past, 1940 and 1954.

In his victory statement, Wright said his nomination would not result in any "cleavage" in GOP ranks, and that the party would be "united and 100 per cent Republican all the way."

Stratton said "Now that Warren Wright appears to be the choice of the Republican voters in this primary... I, of course, shall do everything in my power to help elect him."

"Whatever weaknesses appeared in the organization will be repaired to present the most effective support of the Republican ticket... in the fall election," Stratton said.

The governor credited Wright's victory to the fact that he has a "well-known name" and the vote turnout in Chicago and Cook County was not of the "volume expected."

In the Chicago slaying, Detective Curtis Bell shot Nathaniel Hausley, 38, a Negro, who was threatening voters with a gun at a South Side polling place, telling them: "Don't vote, they'll put you in the soup lines."

One bomb exploded near the United Press office in the arcade of the Hotel Sevilla Baltimore. Banks in the area immediately closed their doors and workers fled for cover. Shops in the area also were closing.

Police with tommy guns and army intelligence agents took over the Prado, Havana's main street, and began a block-by-block hunt for rebel gunmen.

The blast near the prime minister's office was preceded by an apparently unsuccessful rebel attempt to raid the national armory in old Havana.

It appeared rebel leader Fidel Castro's long-heralded all-out offensive against the government of President Fulgencio Batista was underway.

At 11 a. m., rebel raiders invaded a radio station in suburban Vadado and forced announcers to run a record proclaiming that "the general strike is about to start."

Real Life Vendetta Between Mickey Cohen and Lana Turner

HOLLYWOOD — Movie-town productions presents: "The Mobster and the Movie Star"—co-starring Mickey Cohen and Lana Turner. Oddball billing? Not at all. It's a class "B" movie script taken from real life. It's in production right now, but you'll never see the epic in your local theater.

A vendetta was born Good Friday when the blond glamor girl's daughter Cheryl, 14, stabbed Johnny Stompanato to death. Cohen swore he would get to the bottom of the "mystery."

"Lana was chasing Johnny," the stubby Cohen maintains. "If she had left him alone Johnny would be alive today. There's more to this case than the public knows."

Because darkly handsome Johnny formerly was Mickey's bodyguard, Cohen, in true underworld tradition, reasons he owes his ex-henchman some sort of justice. Monday Cohen was tried for slugging a waiter in a restaurant partly owned by Frank Sinatra and he blames Lana for his conviction.

"A couple hours before I'm due in court she says she's afraid of a reprisal by the mob," Mickey said in wounded terms. "Then she asks for police protection."

"So naturally everybody thinks I'm guilty of punching the waiter."

Cohen paced the plush living-room of his apartment in a pair of baby blue pajamas, the picture of outraged innocence.

"I used to think Lana was an okay gal, but now I know better. She's trying to ruin my reputation."

Mickey, who's been imprisoned, shot at, roughed up by the cops and generally shunned by the Blue Book crowd, is touchy about his reputation.

"That's why I don't feel so bad about making available to the press those love letters Lana wrote to Johnny. It served her right. Boy, were they mushy. I couldn't stand to read them myself."

Lana, after seeking protection, has clammed up. She won't talk to anyone, much less Cohen.

Both have been subpoenaed for Friday's coroner's inquest.

Letters from voluptuous Lana to Stompanato were printed Tuesday in a copyrighted article by the Los Angeles Evening Herald-Express. They badly dented Miss Turner's story that it was Stompanato who pursued her—without encouragement—to London and Mexico.

In them, the blonde actress addressed Stompanato as her "dearest, darling lover," "dear lover," "honey pot," "darling papito," and "daddy darling."

The letters were written from various parts of Europe to Stompanato and dated from last fall. One dated Thurs. morn. 7:30 (from Copenhagen), postmarked Sept. 19, 1957, read:

"My dearest, darling love—This is the first letter—I do wish it could be bright and brilliant but somehow I'm not quite up to it. Because all I want to write and say is I love you..."

Another from London read in part:

"... Just this morning your precious exciting letter arrived—and I'm quickly jotting this to you to tell you I adore the way you write and all the truly beautiful things you say to me—so, please, please dearest continue..."

"I'll close now love, will write tonight—have to go to a meeting with the dir. writers etc.—know deeply I love you angel—cuigado y baci, baci—hold me dear lover..."

Star Outfielders Snider And Covington Hurt; May Not Play Opening Games

By United Press
The Milwaukee Braves and the Los Angeles Dodgers today faced the possibility of opening the 1958 season without star outfielders Wes Covington and Duke Snider.

Covington twisted his left knee in an exhibition game against the Dodgers at Austin, Tex., Tuesday and may miss next Tuesday's opener against the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was sliding home on the business end of a squeeze play in the 13th inning that gave the Braves a 5-4 victory.

Snider's trouble also is centered in the left knee, which was operated on last December. There has been some swelling in the knee this spring and Duke told one reporter Tuesday, "I think it'll have to be drained."

However, he later declared "There may not be any need for that draining," and added he "will try to play" in today's game against the Braves at Dallas.

The veteran center fielder has appeared in only 13 games this spring and has been unable to play more than two days in succession, all of which would indicate his knee still is unable to withstand sustained pressure without developing some soreness.

The San Francisco Giants, meanwhile, received good news when X-rays revealed Willie Mays suffered only a mild hematoma (bruise) just above the elbow when struck by a pitched ball in Monday's game against the Cleveland Indians at Austin.

Mays sat out Tuesday's game at Corpus Christi, in which the Indians rolled to an 11-7 victory over the Giants, but will be back in center field for the season opener.

Yanks, Cards Defeated

In other Tuesday exhibitions, the Phillies edged the Yankees, 3-2; the White Sox turned back the Cardinals, 5-4; the Senators rolled to a 10-3 victory over the Redlegs, and the Cubs downed the Orioles, 6-5, on Dale Long's 10th inning clutch single.

At Mexico City, in the first appearance of a big league team there in 20 years, more than 25,000 fans saw the Pittsburgh Pirates lose to Mexico City of the Mexican League, 5-3. Pancho Ramirez pitched the route for the minor leaguers and missed a shutout in the ninth inning when Danny Kravitz hit a three-run homer.

The Cubs' outfield was a constant source of jokes among the rest of the National League last year. Scheffing tried any number of different combinations but couldn't find two dependable flycatchers to flank hard-hitting Walt (Moose) Moryn.

"Our biggest need was a good center fielder," says the Cubs' manager, "and we got the man we were looking for when we obtained Bobby Thomson from the Giants last week."

Thomson now is set in center; Moryn, who patrolled right field last year, looks far better suited in left, and Chuck Tanner and Lee Walls are conducting a spirited battle for the right field job. No one is more determined to make good than Tanner, acquired from the Braves last spring for the waiver price.

Tanner was rocking along at a .321 pace this spring before he was struck in the mouth by his own foul ball. Six stitches were taken in the lower lip and he probably will lose five teeth which were damaged.

But the next day Tanner was back at the ball park, telling Scheffing in an almost whispered mumble, "I'll be back in three in a day or two. I'm all right."

Moryn is doing a fine defensive job in left and his arm, strong but not exceptional, is better adapted to the shorter throw. He's happy about the switch.

Two Teams Added To Oil Belt Baseball League

Tuesday night the Oil Belt baseball league held its pre-league opening meeting at Norris City.

Two new clubs were voted into the league—Herrin and James North's Colored Royals. This brings the league up to an eight-team league again as Albion and Mount Carmel had dropped out.

The Harrisburg Merchants, managed by Charles Nelson, will open at home on May 4 against Herrin. Herrin had a 25-3 record playing independent ball last season and should be a contender for the Oil Belt league crown.

James North's Royals will play at Carrier Mills or Harrisburg and their opening game will be at Cisne.

The Royals and Merchants will practice together Sunday and hold a practice game. Players are asked not to wear their uniforms.

HTHS Basketball Coach John Dotson revealed today that one of his senior players, Kinch Jones, has received an athletic scholarship offer to Presbyterian college in Clinton, South Carolina.

The offer was made by the college's basketball coach, Courts Redford, who was in Harrisburg Monday.

Bull Dog Track Squad in Meet At McLeansboro

Coaches Lawrence Caluffetti and Chester Caddas took their Harrisburg Bull Dog track and field squad to McLeansboro this afternoon to participate in a triangular meet with Eldorado the third school participating.

The coaches stated they are still holding tryouts and will take as large a squad as possible to the Mineral Areas track and field meet at Hurst Saturday.

They said they had a potentially good varsity relay team this year with Bill Yates, Donald Biggs and Larry Barnett, veterans from last year, being three of the starters. Larry Wise or Mike Woolcott probably will be the fourth man, they stated.

Early Success at Little Grassy; See Banner Season at Lake Harrisburg

By Pete Brown
Southern Illinois University
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation.)

True to form, Little Grassy Lake began building up steam toward the middle of March with the usual field of early birds making some choice catches. But by the April 4 weekend, with tents and trailers sprouting all around Grassy's public areas, high winds, off-and-on rains and a skidding barometer had driven most everyone off the lake.

One of the earliest birds of all, Frank Taveggia of Johnston City, scored first and foremost at Grassy this season, boating an eight pound, four ounce bass on a Shannon twin. It was a couple of weeks later before Louis Barry of Granite City came close to duplicating the feat, and he hooked his seven and one-half pounder on a deep-dangling minnow.

Most of the success at Grassy, however, has come with jig-type baits, and white-skirted Helldivers have been the most popular. Benton's Frank Eskew, fishing without his bass-terrorizing partner, Earl Ferguson, champing at the bit in a sickbed, hooked a six and three-quarter pounder, the only strike he got in six hours of fishing.

Crab Orchard Murky
Other Grassy leaders: George Rose, Benton, two six pounders; Bob Shea, Chicago, two totaling 11 1-2 pounds (Heddon Go-Deeper); and Bill Dahner, Marion, two six pounders. Several other bass between five and six pounds have crossed the dock but their owners eluded identification.

Grassy is at spillway level, and only moderately dingy, but the surface temperature still seems a shade too low for any widespread bass movement. Several

Farm Housing Loan Program Is Expanded

An expanded farm housing loan program designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional anti-recession measure was announced today by E. Ronald Coon, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the 4 percent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. Mr. Coon said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings. While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is 4 percent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Red Sox Catcher Faces Surgery

BOSTON — Red Sox catcher Haywood Sullivan, who tried for years to win a starting berth, faces surgery on a ruptured spinal disk today. Sox officials said he will probably be lost for the season.

A spokesman at New England Baptist Hospital said the 28-year-old Sullivan would be in the hospital "at least three weeks" and then wear a brace for an indefinite period.

Sullivan, a native of Donaldsonville, La., was batting .258 when he suffered a broken index finger. He began complaining about his back while sidelined.

Umpire Splits Pants In Calling Play at First Base

TRENTON, N. J. — Umpire Larry Gambell put all he had into calling an out on a close play at first base Tuesday—including his pants.

The scene of the show-stealing play was the Rider-Brandeis game—which Rider went on to win 8-2. Gambell gave one of those television performances during the third inning, winding up his body and jamming his fist, thumb outstretched, high in the air.

Unfortunately, his trousers weren't up to the occasion. They split from here to there.

Someone dragged a coat out to him, while another fellow went to Gambell's house and got another pair of pants.

Everything in order, the signal was once more, "Play ball."

calm and sunny days should stimulate a lively run.

The marginal effects of a squally weekend left Crab Orchard in murky shape. Bass fishermen, what few of them have worked it, haven't tapped the big lake for anything quotable this spring. Crappie fishing has been fair and sizes have run from moderate to good.

Crappie fishing in Bay Creek has been quite good so far and Lusk Creek above Golconda, though cold, is in excellent condition. A number of bass catches also have been reported from the two creeks.

Sahara Lake in Good Shape
Sahara Lake, that jewel of the strip hills near Carrier Mills, has been drawn down considerably and is in great shape. Bluegill haven't started hitting in appreciable numbers, however.

Two places to watch this season: Lake Murphysboro and Harrisburg City Lake. Murphysboro fishermen are fairly excited over an unusual spring run of bass, and Arthur Staudt, believe it or not, landed a Leviathan just an ounce shy of seven pounds. He was using a spinning-size spoon. Lake Murphysboro's failure to yield any lunker size bass since it was stocked has caused some consternation among sportsmen. Maybe the lake is ready to pay off at last.

Harrisburg City Lake, long and well protected in its valley setting, provided many a two and three pound bass last year and is all primed for a banner season. The bass here are as black as any largemouth you'll ever see and plenty solid through the shoulders.

Writers Pick Yankees, Braves To Win Pennants

NEW YORK — It'll be the Yankees and Braves in the World Series again this year — and this time the Yankees will bring back baseball's world championship to New York.

That is the overwhelming consensus of a committee of 50 of the nation's top baseball experts, who participated in the United Press' annual survey. All 50 experts spent the last six weeks in spring training camps.

Here's the way the writers viewed the forthcoming season: —49 of the 50 picked the Yankees to win the American League pennant.

—45 of the 50 picked the Braves to win the National League pennant.

—29 of the 50 picked the Yankees to beat the Braves in the Series.

The Yankees' 49 first-place votes and one second-place vote gave them 399 of a possible 400 points. The Braves had five second-place votes to go with 45 first-place ballots for a total of 395 points.

Trailing the Yankees, in order, were the White Sox (332 points), Tigers (297), Red Sox (256), Indians (189), Orioles (174), Athletics (98) and Senators (55).

Trailing the Braves, in order, were the Cardinals (326), Dodgers (296), Redlegs (267), Phillies (183), Giants (169), Pirates (100) and Cubs (73).

THE STORY: Investigating the murders of two retired police detectives, Dave Wintino goes to the scene of a 1930 Prohibition slaying in Brooklyn. Both of the murdered officers, Al Wales and Ed Owens had been on the case, in which a man was sent to the chair. Dave learns that one of them "never gave up" on the case, in which the slayer's partner was never identified.

XVII

I opened the paper to the story on Wales' death, showed him the two pictures. He touched Wales' photo with his pipe. "That's him. He used to talk to me a good deal, at first. Kept asking like you just did, what this other bootlegger looked like, the one they never did catch up with. Like I say, they was doing, so I only saw him maybe a few times. Slim young fellow with dark hair and a thin mustache. Always wearing sunglasses, even when it was a dull day. Of course I ain't so sure of this now—it was years ago."

"Yeah, too long ago," I said, trying to think. "How often did Wales come out to look at the garage, or watch it?"

Davis shifted his feet on the pitchfork. "Hard to say. For a time seemed like he was there every time I turned around. Of course now I had a kind of job, so I couldn't say if he was there during the day or not. After a time, a few years, we didn't talk much, just nod at the other. Sometimes he'd ask me if I'd seen anybody around searching the place. I never did."

"Wait a minute," I cut in. "Before the war—you mean Wales was still snooping around here years after the killing?"

"Yep, he was around up till the time they tore it down. Not so often, I'd see him one day and maybe not again for a month or more. He'd step inside and tell me to go out and look at my plants. But sometimes I'd watch him through a busted window—he'd be standing in the center of the garage and stare at the walls for a long time. Only looking. After a while he'd go to one wall or corner, start hunting. Was nothing in there, the police took out all the machinery when they made the arrest. Building was torn down in 1946 but on account of the shortage of building materials they couldn't start building again till . . . of . . . I'd say it was 1949, when they put up the dye plant. Took me on as watchman again."

"Wales say anything when they took the old garage down?"

"No, sir, he'd given up by then."

"Can you recall when he gave up?"

"JUST about. It was early in '46, say around April. I remember because I told him about the building coming down and he slipped me a few bucks, says I should go to the movies, take the day off. He said he'd be there all day. I didn't go to no movie. I went home and went to bed. Like I said, he wasn't the kind of man to talk much. Around six in the evening I came back and he says, 'Now they can knock this wreck down. I'm done.' I says to him, 'You find what you been looking for?' And he gave me a blank look and asks, 'Who says I was looking for anything?' One thing, he wasn't carrying a package or anything when he left."

"He could have put a bag in his car while you were in the sack?"

"Nope, he didn't have his car that day. I watched him walking all the way over to Eastland Ave. to catch a trolley. I kind of poked around myself at times, thought maybe was money these bootleggers might have hidden. But I gave up after a couple looks. Didn't see the paper to-day, what's this Wales done now?"

"He was shot to death. Pops, did you ever see the other man this Owens, poking around here? He was a detective, too."

"No, just Wales. Don't recall the other face. 'Course at the time if the shooting, whole block was full of detectives. Tramping all over my tomato plants. Why did Wales shoot himself?"

"He didn't, he was murdered," I said, jotting down the dates in my notebook.

"Murdered? I say these teenagers should be given a taste of the strap and then—"

"I want you to do me a favor, don't talk about this. Don't even tell anybody you remember Wales. You see what you've just told me can be nothing, then again it might help us to solve Wales' murder."

"I won't say a mumbleing word. 'Don't want to get mixed up in nothing. Not me. Say I sure got to read the morning paper now."

I WANTED to tell him to keep his trap shut even if that beat cop happened to ask what I wanted, but that might make the old boy suspicious of me. I write my name and the squad phone on a notebook page, gave it to him. "If you think of anything else, even if it doesn't seem important, but anything you haven't told me—anything—give me a ring. If I'm not here, leave a number where I can reach you. Got a phone?"

"I only room here, with my grandson, but they got a phone. And you can call me at the dye plant all during the night. I'll think about it, maybe I can recall something. But it was a long time ago."

"Anybody else around here who might remember the killing?"

He shook his head, almost proudly. "Nope, I'm about the last of the old-timers here. That's because I drink two full
